Les colonnes mobiles des Peres de famille are ordered out to garrison Landau and reinforce the army in Italy.

Madame de Talaru and Cesarina have called on me. The latter has grown a stout, bold-looking girl—her chin a la Neron. During the time of terror, when they were hiding themselves and lived in constant fear and trembling, the mother was exhorting the girl to attend to her religious exercises. " Ah, maman ! " she said, " comment est-ce qu'on pourroit penser d faire son salut £ present ?"

A journal (I know not which) has found out that I had a son, page to Louis XVL, and that I and Lord Malniesbury are selected for our astuce and manque de foi; so it requests everyone to be upon their guard against us. As all I say and do may be known on the Pont Neuf if they like it, you may be sure such stuff gives me no uneasiness.

Madame du Paty has married her daughter Leonora to the son of Elie de Beaumont. Mademoiselle d'Arbouville is in quiet possession of her property, and nobody knows the fate of her brother, poor Crooknose. The young Du Patys have been employed in planning, &c., upon the frontiers.